

INTERNATIONAL GUEST LECTURE

Marek Zawartka
Jagiellonian University, Poland

HOTEL OPERATIONS WITH A SPECIAL FOCUS ON THE SAFETY AND SECURITY OF PERSONS RESIDING IN HOTELS

03. 03. 2015, 9:05 - 10:25, T10 P115

SPORT TOURISM IN TERMS OF THE SAFETY AND SECURITY OF PARTICIPANTS DURING SPORTS EVENTS

04. 03. 2015, 9:05 - 10:25, T10 P8

Marek Zawartka is an assistant professor in the Department of Management in Tourism at the Jagiellonian University in Cracow. His broad academic experience embraces teaching courses on safety and security in tourism, safety and security in sport, organization of sport, and providing seminar programs. Professor Zawartka is also an auxiliary promoter of a doctoral thesis. His research work is focused on behavior of hooligans, in particular their aggression during sports events, and preparation of the security forces responsible for mass events (including institution of spotter and steward). Professor Zawartka investigates norms and values of sports fans representing high-risk groups and marketing and sponsorship in Polish sport clubs.

